DRESS LOUD DAY

What is it?

An opportunity for community outreach and to model good corporate citizenship. Participants donate a toonie (or more) and wear their loudest, wildest, wackiest shirts, ties, or other clothing.

When is it?

First Friday of Hearing Awareness Month
May 7, 2010 – or any other day in May that works for your group.

Why do it?

It's easy and fun and helps spread the word that deaf kids talk. Hearing loss is sometimes called an invisible disability but most Deaf kids today learn to talk and go to regular schools. Show your compassion and help give Deaf kids a VOICE for life!

Who is it for?

VOICE for Hearing Impaired Children. VOICE encourages better understanding of children with hearing loss and teaches children with hearing loss to learn to listen and speak and also provides support to families.

SOUNDS GREAT!

Now what do I do?

Let VOICE know that you want to get loud with us! We'll send you a participation kit closer to March with posters, flyers, and instructions.
